Facebook Content Creation

Before you begin connecting with people on Facebook you need to add some interesting and entertaining content to your profile page as this is where someone will visit to find out more about you and see what kind of posts you are sharing.

If they visit your profile and you have no profile image or banner and very few posts that aren't related to anything they like then why would they be interested in connecting with you?

If your profile has a nice picture of you, a banner and you have a number of posts that interest them and they can see that you provide value, then they are more likely to feel that it's worth becoming Facebook friends and following you.

Start by creating several different posts to add interesting, eye-catching and entertaining content to your profile so that when you start connecting with other people your profile looks good and you look like someone they would like to follow and connect with.
